a little eckert history

Six generations ago, Henry Eckert planted his first apple tree in St. Clair County, Illinois. His son, Alvin O. Eckert, developed the land into apple & peach orchards & sold his fruit at a small roadside market where our Country Restaurant is located today. Alvin's wife, Ella Heinrich, was the oldest of nine children and learned to be a wonderful cook. We have fond memories of seeing her in her big kitchen in the house on the hill, slicing the fruit for her pies and rolling out homemade noodles. Throughout the generations, the Eckert family has farmed together and has always enjoyed sharing meal time with each other. It is not uncommon to find three or more generations of our family gathered in a kitchen and around a table, sharing in the preparations for a home cooked meal. During these times, stories are told, days reviewed, wisdom imparted, traditions passed down and lasting memories created. Grandpa Alvin and Grandma Ella were great role models for us growing up and inspired us younger generations to carry on their legacies on the farm and in the kitchen. We are very proud to share their love for farming and home cooking with you, our valued guests.
